Andrew Carnegle Aftends Function at Hoboken Last Night.

Andrew Carnegie last night formally pre sented to the Stevens Institute of Technology, at Hoboken, N. J., the new building erected at his expense and known as the "Carnegie Laboratory of Engineering." The ceremonies consisted of the delivery of the keys of the building to Mr. Carnegie by the architects, and the handing of these keys by Mr. Carnegie to S. Bayard Dod, president of the board of trustees, a few appropriate words accompanying donation and propriate words accompanying donation and acceptance.

Following this was the presentation to Mr. Carnegie by Dr. Henry Morton, president of the faculty, acting for the alumni association, of a beautifully decorated silver box made by Tiffany & Co., containing a piece of the first "T" rail ever made. This rail was invented by R. L. Stevens and made in 1830 by Sir John Guest at his works in Wales, under the personal superworks in Wales, under the personal super-vision of Mr. Stevens. It was with these rails that the Camden and Amboy railroad was laid in 1831-1832.

SEDITION AT MANILA

Act Passed by the Philippine Com-

HEATED DISCUSSION IN THE SENATE

Foraker Says Tillman is Protected Only by His Office.

MR. HOAR'S OPPOSITION

The Philippine tariff bill was under dis cussion for four hours in the Senate yesterday afternoon. The measure was completed, so far as the Philippine committee is concerned, all of the committee amendments being adopted. Several other amendments, however, will be offered, one or two being pending.

Toward the close of the session the dis cursion became heated. In response to a resolution offered several days ago by Mr. Rawlins of Utah the Secretary of War transmitted to the Senate the sedition laws enacted by the Philippine commission They were read in full and immediately drew the fire of the opponents of the government's Philippine policy. Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts expressed his astonishment that such laws should be enforced by the government authorities. Mr. Foraker of Ohio had read from the Revised Statutes of the United States the laws of Congress relating to the crime of treason and similar offenses against the government, and said that the acts passed by the Philippine com-mission were almost identical in their language with the laws enacted by Congress in the days of the fathers of the republic, and that there was nothing unprecedented or unusual about them.

The Ohio senator was interrupted continually and had several warm coloquies with senators who were opposing him. In one of them he announced with great earnestness that the American army never would return from the Philippines until k returned victorious, and that gentlemen in and out of Congress, rail about it as they might, ought thoroughly to understand poured oil on the troubled waters of the Senate, maintaining that men might well differ on any of the great questions now before the country, but that all were thoroughly loyal to the country and were doing

Imposition of Tonnage Dues. After The Star's report of the proceedings of the Senate was closed, Mr. Lodge offered an amendment to section three of the bill, so as to make it read as follows: "That on and after the passage of this act, in addition to any tonnage dues or taxes now imposed by the government of the Philippine Islands, the same tonnage taxes shall be levied, collected and paid upon all foreign vessels coming into the United States from the Philippine archipelago, and in addition to any tonnage dues or taxes now imposed by the government of the Philippine Islands upon all foreign vessels, except vessels of Spain, owned by Spanish subjects, engaged in traffic between parts of the Philippine architecture. ports of the Philippine archipelago, which are required by law to be levied, collected and paid upon vessels coming into the United States from foreign countries; provided, however, that until otherwise pro-vided by law, the provisions of law restricting to vessels of the United States the transportation of passengers and mer-chandise directly or indirectly from one port of the United States to another port to foreign vessels engaging in trade be-tween the Philippine archipelago and the United States or between ports in the Phil-Ippine archipelago."

Mr. Patterson (Col.), a democratic member of the Philippine committee, contended that a definite time for the application of our coastwise laws, to go into effect in the Philippines, should be fixed, but an amend-ment fixing this time as March 1, 1903, was defeated by a vote of 18 to 34. Licenses for Lightering. Mr. Lodge then offered the following amendment as un additional provision of section three: "That the Philippine commission shall be authorized and empowered craft now engaged in lighterage or other exclusively harbor business, but after no passage of this act such licenses, except as herein provided, shall be issued only to vessels or other craft built in the Philippine Islands or in the United States and owned by citizens of the United States or by inhabitants of the Philippine Islands."

habitants of the Philippine Islands."

Mr. Lodge explained in response to inmr. Longe explained in response to inquiries that the amendment was offered merely as a reasonable protection to native boats and to boats from the United States sent there to take part in the lighterage business. Unless some such provision as this were adopted, he said, the probability was that the harbor of Manila would be covered with such craft from Hong Kong and other Chinese ports, thus depriving American owners of lighterage boats of the the opportunity of doing that business. The amendment was adopted.

Several minor amendments also were agreed to without debate. Sedition Laws at Manile.

Consideration of the measure then was interrupted to permit the sedition laws in force in the Philippine Islands to be laid before the Senate. They had been sent to the Senate by the Secretary of War in response to a resolution offered by Mr. Rawlins (Utah) several days ago. The laws were read in full by the clerk.

At the conclusion of the reading Mr.

Foraker sent to the clerk's desk and had read sections 5331 to 5338, inclusive, of the Revised Statutes of the United States, dealing with the same offenses. When the reading had been concluded

When the reading had been concluded Mr. Lodge secured the adoption of the following amendment: "That merchandise in bonded warehouse or otherwise in the custody and control of the officers of the the date of the original arrival, to a return of the duties paid less i per cent, and merchandise upon which duties have not been paid may be shipped without the payment of duties to the Philippine Islands within said period under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury."

This perfected the bill so far as the committee was concerned

mission adopted the language of the Revised Statutes adding such matters as would make the provisions applicable to the Philippine Islands."

He was proceeding to discuss the acts of the Philippine commission with special reference to the one to which Mr. Hoar had referred as requiring a mother to inform upon her reasonable son when he was interrupted by Mr. Hoar: "Does the senator approve of that act?"

"Yes, I do," responded Mr. Foraker. Denounced by Mr. Tillman.

Mr. Tillman (S. C.) interrupted Mr. Foraker to denounce the sedition laws enacted by the Philippine commission as "damnable doctrine" "It might be in order," said Mr. Foraker warmly, "to inquire of the senator from warmly, "to inquire of the senator from South Carolina on which side of the struggle in the Philippines are his sympathies."

"My sympathies are with the Filipinos." shouted Mr. Tillman, pounding his desk emphatically.
"Undoubtedly they are," retorted Mr. Foraker, "and such a flat-footed and unqualified declaration as the senator has made would render the Revised Statutes applicable to him if he were not protected by his position as senator."

mis position as senator,"
Mr. Hoar, again interrupting Mr. Foraker,

Mr. Hoar, again interrupting Mr. Foraker, and directing attention to the declaration in the Senate chamber of Thomas Corwin of Ohio during a debate on the Mexican war, that if he were a Mexican he would welcome the americans with bloody hands to hospitable graves, inquired if the people of Ohio did not reverence the name and memory of Thomas Corwin.

Mr. Foraker replied that the people of Ohio did love to recall the memory of Thomas Corwin, but they realized, he said, that in that great emergency he had made that in that great emergency he had made a profound mistake.

"We are in a fair way," said he, "to subdue the insurrection in the Philippine Islands, and we will accomplish that end if the Filipinos do not get too much encouragement from men in and out of Congress."

Mr. Clay (Georgia) inquired of Mr. Foraker if he had delivered a certain address, from which he quoted a paragraph, and the Ohio senator replied that he had.

"Does not the senator think," inquired Mr. Hoar, facetiously, "that that utterance would render him liable under the laws against treasen?"

"I think not." replied Mr. Foraker, in the same vein. "But if I were guilty of any-thing under that utterance I am sure the senator from Massachusetts would have been hanged long ago." (Laughter.) "I do not want to be left out of that hon-orable coterie," interjected Mr. Tillman.

"Well, we'll include you," said Mr. For-aker, laughingly, "if you are anxious to be Army Will Return When Victorious. Again, when interrupted by Mr. Tillman,

Mr. Foraker said: "I want to say to the senator and to the Senate that our army will never come back from the Philippipes until it comes back victorious. That may as well be understood now as at any future time. Gentle-men may rail about it in Congress and out, but it is a fact that all by this time ought thoroughly to understand."

Oil on Troubled Waters.

Mr. Hoar concluded the debate by additional references to Thomas Corwin. "Men as good as I am, men wiser than I am," said Mr. Hoar, "differ from me upon am," said Mr. Hoar, "differ from me upon these questions. I do not believe the distinguished senator from Ohio wants to do injustice to any one. Some men, however, show their love of the flag by protecting it against violence and some show their love of the flag by keeping it pure and as a symbol of justice. The one is an honorable thing and the other is an honorable thing. Those who are resisting the present policy of our government in the Philippines are quite as loyal as those who are supporting it."

The difference of opinion which had arisen among the people, he said in conclusion, was the "legitimate result of this misera-tive session on motion of Mr. Teller, and at 6:10 adjourned.

BULGARIAN OFFICIAL KILLED. Assaultnated in His Study in Sofis by

A dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria, yester-day says: M. Kamtcheff, the minister of public instruction, was assassinated today in his study by a Macedonian, who pretended he wanted to present a petition. The assassin subsequently committed suicide by shooting himself. M. Kamtcheff's assassin, who had been a M. Ramchell's assassin, who had been a student at the University of Sofia, was appointed to a professorship in a provincial town. Disappointed at not being assigned to a position at the capital, he had threatened to murder M. Kamtchell. The police knew of the man's threats and were also aware that there were doubts as to his santty, but they allowed him to secure a private audience of M. Kamtcheff and the minis-

The assassination of a Bulgarian minister by a Macedonian may be the spark that will start the flame in the Balkans. The situation there is most complicated and trouble is inevitable. Macedonia is a thorn in Turkey's side, as there is unrest there and revolution constantly threatening.

The Macedonian committee is doing everything to fan the spark of revolution everything to fan the spark of revolution into a flame. The question, however, is what will become of Macedonia. Many of the Macedonians wish liberty and an independent government, but Bulgaria has an eye on the Turkish possession, and Russia is not averse to Bulgaria securing possession of Macedonia sion of Macedonia.

Those who wish liberty are bitter against Bulgaria, as they cannot see how they would be benefited by the change of masters, and it may be that one of these Mace donian patriots who are as bitter against Bulgaria as against Turkey assassinated

Young vs. Veteran Clerks.

I would like to ask these men who are shricking so loudly for a clearing out of the old clerks in the departments to make room for young blood, which is only another name for the sons of themselves and their constituents, if any one of them ever worked in one of the departments. If not, I want to say to them, "The zeal of thine house hath eaten up their good sense." I have served for many years in the departments in Washington, for the past twenty years as a chief of division, but sit down, senator, I am only fifty-five, so that I do not yet come within your proscribed class. In these twenty years I have seen many young men and a few old ones come and so.

Let me tell you the life of the "young blood" as I see it from day to day. I have in my division four "young bloods," rightly so called. Their daily life for seven hours comprises a rush to the office just barely in time to avoid water an excess for tardiof duties to the Philippine islands within said period under such ruies and regulations as may be prescribed by the Seretary of the Treasury."

This perfected the bill so far as the committee was concerned

Mr. Hoar on the Sedition Laws.

Mr. Hoar on the Sedition Laws.

Mr. Hoar then spoke briefly upon the sedition laws enacted by the Philippine commission, saying he was sorry that the commission, saying he was sorry that the commission had had its act justified by reference to the only harsh and cruel provisions in the Philippine commissions in the United States. Under this cruel provision in the Philippine commissions acts a mother having knowledge of the treason of her son must inform the authorities upon him; the son must inform upon the mother, the burder, and so on. He said the laws of the United States were applied only to citizens of this country—citizens by either nativity or adoption.

Mr. Patterson interrupted Mr. Hoar to say that Governor Taft had informed the Philippine commission, and that had he been present there probably would have been some modification of the acts.

ment at the front; each has done his duty well for twenty years that I have known them intimately.

Heaven help the service when such men as these are put out to make room for papa the senator's boys, for it is on men such as these that the responsibility for the proper performance of the work of the department rests.

This is no fancy sketch, but the story as I

This is no fancy sketch, but the story as I see it from day to day, and I know of no better way to conclude than to add the following from the last report of a faithful public man since gone to his reward:

"My official life will soon end; I have no personal motives to serve, and can therefore afford, and feel constrained, without fear of demagogues, who hope to make party capital at the people's expense, to tell the honest truth as it has forced conviction upon my mind, after long experience and the honest truth as it has forced conviction upon my mind, after long experience and close observation of the workings of the public service. The conclusion arrived at is, that no real, radical reform in the civil service can be hoped for until the holding of a public office shall be considered as conferring honor upon the passessor, and the office holder be an honor to the people he represents and serves. This, it is believed, can only be brought about by the payment of such salaries as will draw into the public service from the more lucrative nursuits service from the more lucrative pursuits of private life competent and honest men, every way fit for and worthy of places of honor and trust.

"Until demagogues and a hypocritical party press shall cease their clamor for a reduction of salaries, and until legislators shall learn not to be 'penny-wise and pound-foolish,' there will be little hope for a thorough reform in the civil service of the government. Another evil is the cry for a reduction of the working force in the public offices. The truth is, that the number of clerks in many of the offices is inadequate to the safe conduct of the public business."
